

For immediate release
September 2011

HELIMEDIA SIGNS AGENCY AGREEMENT WITH SCOTTY GROUP

HeliMedia, specialists in intelligence, surveillance and communications (ISC) solutions has signed an agency agreement with SCOTTY to supply its Beyond Line of Sight (BLOS) video links in the UK and Ireland. This is an important addition to HeliMedia's portfolio of superior, high performance communications and surveillance suppliers.

HeliMedia will work with SCOTTY to offer customers a solution for video links that are beyond line of sight. For example, these may be used in disaster or emergency situations, coastguard support, or oil tanker and oil rig communications. These links are directed over satellites which are a more cost-effective solution, than paying for a specific licence.

Stephen Watson, business development manager comments:

“HeliMedia has a strong reputation for introducing and coordinating best of breed technologies and suppliers into the core ISC market. We already have a lot of experience in air-to-ground terrestrial microwave technologies but we needed a solution for long range (BLOS) video and are delighted to work with SCOTTY to complete our portfolio of vide mission systems.”

Jeremy Pengelly SCOTTY UK Sales Manager commented:

‘SCOTTY is delighted in providing our innovative and leading edge technology to the HeliMedia range of products and solutions. HeliMedia offers a range of ISR equipment to Government Agencies and with the addition of SCOTTY satcom technology can offer a comprehensive real-time BLOS solution to any type of aircraft.’

- Ends -

For further information, please contact:

Simon Hall
Managing Director
HeliMedia Ltd
Tel: 01452 857155
Email: simon.hall@helimedia.co.uk

About SCOTTY

SCOTTY is dedicated to provide integrated communication solutions for video, audio and data transmission over any kind of network.

With more than ten years of experience, SCOTTY have pioneered the Government market, where we have unrivalled know-how and have consistently proved our capability to offer our customer solutions that not only fulfil the purpose of video, audio and data communication, but also perfectly fit into their environments and work spaces.

SCOTTY's engineering team has the experience to deliver a wide range of video and data communication solutions from mobile applications for headquarters and the field to moving applications in vehicles, ships and aircraft as well as customization for military integrators. Our capabilities include knowledge of electronic design, video and audio encoding techniques, protocols, interfaces, integration of encryption technology, satellite communication and system design.

About HeliMedia Ltd

HeliMedia provides specialist intelligence, surveillance and communications solutions (ISC) for customers in the military, public safety, security and utilities sectors. Its core focus is to define customer's requirements, design suitable systems – using high-performance, technically superior products – and deliver the entire solution with the back-up of a dedicated service team, offering customer support and training.

The company is a member of ADS, the UK's Aerospace, Defence and Security trade body. HeliMedia is an AS/EN9110 registered company.